CITIZENS' BOND COMMITTEE FAILS TO TAKE ACTION ON AUXILIARY POWER PROJECT

Several Members Declare Organization Should Disband If It Is Not Permitted to Take Active Interest in Civic Projects

The members of the Citizens' Bond committee, acting as a committee of the whole, refused to take a stand on the question of auxiliary pumping engine to save electrical power, at a meeting held this morning at the auditorium of the Harvard High school building.

The committee also refused to take any action on the report, in the form of a letter, sent by Roy L. Kent, chairman of sub-committee No. 7, auxiliary power plant for Glendale, when J. H. Randall, president of the Fourth Street Improvement association, and a member of that committee, reported he had not seen Mr. Kent's report before the meeting, and was not informed of a meeting of that sub-committee had been called.

Mr. Kent said in his letter that the proposition assigned to his committee was such a large one that the committee would have to take more time to investigate the situation fully, and a complete report could not be given to the committee for some time. The sub-committee is working on the investigation, he said in his letter, and will report on the progress from time to time.

The committee's step in ignoring action in the auxiliary pumping engine situation, in the face of the move of the Exchange club yesterday when members of that organization passed a motion to withhold action until the Citizens' Bond committee had passed upon it, came after considerable debate on the subject, which was broached by Peter Hanson, representing the Glendale Optimist club.

Opinion Divided
W. L. Twining, representing the Glendale Realty board, moved that the Citizens' Bond committee take no action on any subject outside of bond issues, and which were presented to the organization through the proper sub-committees. There were several dissenting votes on the motion, but General Chairman D. H. Smith ruled its passage.

Mr. Hanson, in bringing up the matter, urged the committee to take some action on the question, saying that the public was expecting some recommendations from the organization.

H. M. Butts of the Glendale Merchants' association, said he felt it would not rescue a bond issue and therefore was not the work of the committee.

R. Streit, representing the West Side Improvement association, said he felt the work of the committee was clearly outlined by the city officials.

"It looks to me like this committee was formed for the purpose of shifting the responsibility from the city to this committee," he said. "If any of these things proposed go over, the city gets the glory. If they don't, we get the blame. If this committee is to support only bond issues, then I suggest that we never meet again."

"I feel this committee should have the power and the scope to delve into things of importance, bond issue or no bond issue, as long as they are of public importance."

O. M. Newby, representing the West Broadway Improvement association, said:

"We must enlarge the scope of this committee if we delve into this matter."

"If we are supposed to deal only in matters where a bond issue is necessary, then our hands are tied. We can't recommend anything if we follow instructions."

"It is a matter that this committee should look into," R. Belcher, representing the Southeast Glendale Improvement association, said. "There is an industry near me where twelve men had to be laid off on account of the power shortage."

"If we can't do anything but take the responsibility of the city officials for the success or failure of bond issues, then I say let's dissolve this committee this minute."

Mr. Twining's motion, which was made during the debate, was finally brought to a vote, and the matter disposed of.

Randall Objects
When Chairman Smith read the letter from Roy L. Kent, chairman of the committee on the auxiliary power plant, and called for the action of the committee on his report, J. H. Randall jumped to his feet and informed the members that the first he knew of the report was when Mr. Smith read it.

"I was never notified that I was on that committee," Mr. Randall said. "Nor did I know a meeting

SEEKS EVIDENCE ON BOULDER DAM

Local Realty Board Names Dr. Jessie Russell to Secure Testimony

Declaring that the Southern California Edison company now has an application for an increase in rates before the State Railroad commission, Dr. Jessie A. Russell, speaking at the weekly meeting of the Glendale Realty board in the Alley Inn, asserted that representatives of the Edison company stated at a hearing in Washington that there was no immediate danger of a power shortage, and that all demands for industrial power in southern California could be satisfied. Dr. Russell also declared that the present agitation about power shortage was never launched until Congress had adjourned and until the Boulder dam project was shelved until at least the next session of Congress.

Want Testimony
Dr. Russell was appointed a committee of one by President Peter Hanson to secure copies of the testimony given at the hearing in Washington, to be presented at next week's meeting of the board.

W. A. Horn, chairman of the Kiwanis power committee, explaining the action of that body in launching the petitions that are to be presented to the City Council has power to act without calling a bond election. A two-unit plant, he contended, could be installed, one unit to pump water and the other to deliver light, and should the city determine to install its own power plant the machinery could be installed by the addition of more units.

Mr. Horn also declared that Pasadena, which has its own power plant, is paying less than 4 cents per kilowatt for juice.

Council To Get Petitions For Power Plant Tomorrow

The emergency committee of the Kiwanis club will tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock present to the City Council liberally signed petitions asking for the establishment of a municipal power plant so that, in the future, Glendale will have protection against a possible power shortage, announced W. A. Horn, chairman of the committee, today.

A meeting of the emergency committee was held this morning in the Security building. Members of the committee state that it seems the belief about the city that an auxiliary power plant, one capable of pumping the city's water supply and, later to take on the city's lighting, so that the community will not be entirely at the mercy of the Southern California Edison company, should be put under way at once.

It is stated that any citizen who may be interested in the project is invited to be present, for the committee is taking the view that the project is one for the whole city and not any single organization.

PROPAGANDA STRIKES AT SOUTHLAND UNCHECKED

A. L. Baird Says Midwest Has Erroneous Ideas About California

"The middle west is a hotbed of anti-California propaganda, and it is directed especially at Southern California," said A. L. Baird of the Valley Mortgage & Finance company, 211 East Broadway, who has just returned to Glendale after a trip of several weeks through Iowa and Illinois. Mr. Baird was a delegate to the Kiwanis International convention at Denver.

After the convention Mr. Baird visited his brothers in Chicago and in Rockford, Ill., his old home, and even among his relatives he found the erroneous conception regarding Southern California existing.

Hear of Bread Lines
Bankers, attorneys and business men with whom he talked, all insisted that Los Angeles has bread lines blocks long every day, that the country here is in wretched shape financially and that everyone who can get away is leaving.

Mr. Baird combatted the propaganda as extensively as he could, quoting facts and figures that should have been convincing, but so firmly rooted is the idea in the minds of the middle westerners, he claims, that nothing can make any impression on it.

"The president of the Iowa State Bankers Association, with whom I talked," he says, "was as positive as could be that Southern California is on the rocks, and he didn't relish my telling him that a great deal of the money that goes to build a new factory every day in Southern California comes from retired Iowa farmers who are drawing their resources out of that state and bringing them to the coast."

When Mortgages Due
"But the big shakedown is coming next March, when the five year mortgages that so many farms are burdened with fall due, and then you are going to see 25 per cent of the farmers in the middle west squeezed to the last penny. The country will get over it in time, but it's going to be a hard blow."

"What with rainstorms, poor crops and mortgages, the middle west is facing a crisis."

"A systematic effort should be made to combat this incorrect, to use no stronger word, propaganda and to set the coast in the right light before the people back there."

Tolley Is Winner of Golf Match In France

VERSAILLES, July 2.—Cyril Tolley, English amateur golfer, today won the French open golf championship with a total score of 290 strokes. Tolley, who finished the first 36 holes yesterday in second place with 146, turned in a 71 and a 73 today. Walter Hagen played brilliantly in the final round, turning in a 69, three under par, which made his total 293 and put him in second place. Gene Sarazen, American professional, finished well down the list.

HUGE FOREST FIRES YET UNCHECKED

Flames Burn Over Large Area and Prove Menace To National Parks

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Described by officials of the United States forestry service as being "decidedly serious and critical," California continued today to be swept by forest fires, the majority of which are out of control and menacing huge national parks that dot the state.

Three large conflagrations which are steadily eating their way into virgin timber lands were receiving all of the attention the government, with the co-operation of state officials and thousands of volunteer fire fighters could command.

Much Timber Destroyed
One of the largest of these, near Little Pappoose creek, south of Minersville, in Trinity county, has already eaten through 1500 acres of choice timber land of Trinity national forest, in spite of the efforts of scores of workers.

It was reported as being completely out of control and spreading rapidly.

A second fire of major importance is blazing in the Sequoia national forest north of Kernville, having already devastated 2500 acres. More than 100 volunteers are reported to have placed three sides of the fire under control.

Flames Uncontrolled
The Plumas national forest is the scene of the third conflagration, an area of 400 acres, near the Western Pacific station, Poe, having been completely burned over by the uncontrolled blaze.

The Tahoe national forest in the American river canyon is menaced by a smaller blaze, although a force of approximately 100 men have succeeded in partially stopping it.

Of the largest fires that which has been burning its way through Santa Clara county for the past ten days was easily the largest.

Reports received here from the Lick Observatory on Mount Hamilton said that the fire which yesterday was partially under control had broken away with renewed force today although several hundred back fire fighters were expected to be successful.

The fire, it was said, had turned with a change in the wind and was now advancing in a southerly direction over a five mile front.

Heavy Rain Falls In Big Tujunga Canyon

J. Ray Thorpe, owner of Big Tujunga Lodge, who left the canyon early today, reports that a twenty-minute shower that fell there about 4 o'clock with a morning covered a fairly large area of back in Big Tujunga canyon and furnished a lot of water for the upper ranches. Outside of that area, however, the shower was limited to a very slight precipitation.

Big Tujunga Lodge, says Mr. Thorpe, will be ready to open on July 4, as already planned, and many campers are already coming into the canyon.

Auto Dealers Suggest Early Closing Hours

Members of the Glendale Automobile Dealers' Association today discussed the question of closing at 7:30 o'clock each night to save lights, but no action was taken on this proposition at the regular meeting held today noon at the Oakmont Country club.

Another topic discussed by the dealers was the establishment of a central garage in the city where all automobiles picked up by the police can be towed at a standard rate and left for the owner. Topics of interest to the dealers and their employees were also discussed.

Federal Mortgage Co. Pays Dividend Checks

C. C. Cooper, president of the Federal Mortgage company, called the stockholders of the company together last night for the purpose of presenting dividend checks representing a dividend of 10 per cent on the company's stock. The meeting was held in the escrow department of the Federal Commercial & Savings bank, 144 North Brand boulevard.

24-Hour Service On Power Lines Here From July 3 to 6

Glendale will have twenty-four hour light and power service Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 3 to 6 inclusive, is the announcement made this morning by Superintendent Peter Diederich of the city light and water department.

"The people of Glendale are meeting the necessary 25 per cent cut," Mr. Diederich stated. "With the holiday period coming, this week-end should be a light one for kilowatt consumption and this department has therefore decided to give twenty-four hour service. 'We hope to continue this uninterrupted service. Whether or not we shall be able to do so rests with the consumers. If they will continue to keep within our quota set by the Southern California Edison company, we believe it will be possible to give twenty-four-hour service from now on.'"

Northwest Section In Mass Meeting For Library Bonds And Additions To Schools

School affairs pertaining to the northwest section of the city, the coming library election and the proposed municipal power plant were live subjects discussed last night at the mass meeting at the Grand View school. Alexander Mitchell, president of the Foothill Improvement association, presided over the association meeting and later presented O. M. Newby, who directed the mass meeting.

Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools, was unable to be present, but a letter from him was read by Mrs. M. B. Buckman. In the letter Mr. White compared school valuations and number of pupils in the east and west sides of the city. His figures showed that while the east side has a higher valuation, the west side has more pupils. He said that a definite decision had been reached that an intermediate school should be built in that section and gave assurance that school accommodations in Glendale are being developed as fast as possible to meet the growing demands.

Widening of Geneva Street Proposed to Planning League
Plans for the widening of Geneva street from Lexington drive to California avenue, are being considered by the City Planning commission, it was revealed this morning by T. W. Watson, chairman.

At the commission meeting on Monday an application was read from the Union Pacific railroad asking that their property at Lexington drive and Geneva street be placed in the commercial zone in order to facilitate the building of a passenger and freight depot.

The application is to be considered next Monday night at 8 o'clock at a meeting of the commission at the city hall.

Geneva street, now sixty feet wide, is to be widened to eighty feet, according to plans. Also the corners at Geneva, California and Glendale avenue will be rounded, Mr. Watson announces.

For Library Bonds

Mrs. Charles Barker, a member of the library board, and Mrs. Alma J. Danford, Glendale librarian, were both present to speak on the bond issue. They told of the need for increased library facilities and told of plans for the new buildings and equipment. They stated that it was the plan to spend $15,000 on the first unit of a library, to be built on two lots at Fifth and Roberta streets. They

STONE TO INSPECT HUNTINGTON LAKE

City Official to Visit Source of Power of Edison Company

City Manager V. B. Stone plans to make a trip of inspection tomorrow to Huntington Lake, the Southern California Edison company's reservoir in the High Sierras, in company with two other representatives from Glendale, in order to determine accurately the exact condition of the water supplies and the power situation at first hand.

This announcement was made at today's luncheon of the Glendale Realty board by President Peter Hanson, in the discussion of the power situation.

Personal Inspection

Mr. Stone's trip, it is stated, is for the object of making a first hand inspection of the territory embraced in the watershed and also to inspect the lake and the rivers feeding into it, to see whether the statements that have been issued from many quarters regarding the water and power shortage are founded entirely on fact.

Immediately on his return, Mr. Stone will prepare a report on his findings at Huntington lake.

DEADLOCK IN CONVENTION CONTINUES UNBROKEN

'Great Commoner' Offers List of 'Eligibles' In His Plea to Delegates

NEW YORK, July 2.—Within an hour after William J. Bryan gained the platform and made a dramatic attempt to turn the presidential nomination to William Gibbs McAdoo and away from John W. Davis, Governor Al Smith, Senator Oscar Underwood and others of whom the others do not approve, the Democratic national convention adjourned at 4 o'clock this afternoon with a deadlock still in existence at the close of the thirty-eighth ballot.

The convention will meet again at 8 o'clock tonight and resume the balloting in an effort to break the deadlock.

The thirty-eighth ballot found McAdoo, with 444, leading the field; Smith second, with 323; John W. Davis in third place, with 104.

Bryan's attempt to "tell the convention whom it should nominate was resented by all the New Yorkers and Smith managers."

Bryan Makes Appeal
In a dramatic effort to break the deadlock balloting, Bryan took the floor at the Democratic national convention to appeal for the nomination of McAdoo.

Bryan cited a long list of Democrats whom he said would meet every requirement of the presidency, but he climaxed his speech with a direct appeal for McAdoo's nomination.

Bryan was alternately cheered and hissed by the galleries, but with a majestic dignity he sounded a battle cry to the progressives of the party to unite behind the Californian, The Democratic party, he said, had built a progressive platform, it had organized a progressive convention—now all it needed was a progressive candidate.

Provides Others
"And that man is William Gibbs McAdoo," he shouted, as a storm of cheers and hisses swept the hall.

Bryan did not stop with McAdoo. He furnished a whole list of "eligibles," as he called them, for the convention to choose from. In the list he named A. A. Murphy, Florida university president, his choice in the early primary; Josephus Daniels, former secretary of the navy; Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas; Senator Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana; E. T. Meredith, former secretary of agriculture; his own brother, Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, and Thomas J. Walsh of Montana.

Farwell Appearance
In his plea for harmony Bryan told the convention he was making his farewell address.

"This is probably the last convention in which I shall be a delegate," he said.

The galleries broke into applause.

ONE DELEGATE VOTES FOR DOHENY

NEW YORK, July 2.—One vote was cast in the Democratic National convention today for Edward L. Doheny, the oil magnate, indicted in Washington several days ago, along with H. F. Sinclair and A. B. Fall. It was cast by E. J. Hughes, a North Dakota delegate, who has voted for Smith while part of his delegation voted for William G. McAdoo.

"I just wanted to get Doheny in line for the vice presidency," said Hughes, explaining his vote, "in case McAdoo is nominated."

CRIPPLED DESTROYER BACK IN PORT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The United States destroyer La Vallette, which crashed on the rocks at Fort Ross reef, eighty miles north of here today in a dense fog, while proceeding northward, floated with the rising tide and turned back to this port, proceeding to Mare Island to have the damage incurred in the crash repaired. The La Vallette, which carries a crew of 112 men, was detailed as a "line" ship for the seaplane squadron flying from San Diego to Seattle, and was proceeding up the coast when the crash came. The fog was reported so dense that the vessel could not determine its position. The forward magazines and the fuel oil tank were reported flooded, in wireless messages.

Eagle Rock Merchants Win
In Fight to Have City Ordinance Altered

EAGLE ROCK, July 2.—Local merchants have been successful in having the Los Angeles parking ordinance changed in certain sections of the business district, and the city attorney has been instructed by the council to prepare the necessary ordinance. The new measure will be in effect in thirty days.

The petition came as an outgrowth of the efforts of Sol Gans and Alfred Fields, who industriously painted diagonal lines in white paint on the paving at 1:30 o'clock in the morning, about two weeks ago. Although they complied with the request of the police department and painted over the white lines in black again, they also accepted the suggestion of police officials that they go about the matter in a proper manner—namely, by petitioning the City Council. Success resulted.

Student Wins Prizes
Although the youngest member of her class, Miss Beryl Brown, 12 years of age, who will enter high school next fall, has won two distinct honors among her classmates during the past two months. After being awarded a beautiful silver pin in a music appreciation contest conducted during music week, when she competed with more than 1500 students, last month the cooking class of which she is a member visited a Los Angeles bakery, where the girls were shown through the shop and told many points in bread making. They were offered a prize of a lovely cake for the best essay on the subject. Miss Brown won the prize.

Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Shaff have arrived in Denver, they report. They camped out most of the time. They had a puncture near Denver and two blowouts on the whole trip. They were feeling fine and enjoying everything. They are visiting Mrs. Shaff's brother, Rev. S. L. Allison. Their next stop will be in Monmouth, Ill., to visit Mrs. Shaff's brother, then they will go to Michigan. Mr. Shaff's old home, to spend the summer.

ENDORSES LIGHT SAVING PROGRAM

Power Is Cut From 25 to 40
Per Cent In Burbank; Teaches Economy

BURBANK, July 2.—The local Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the light-saving program of the Southern California Edison company on the grounds that it not only is necessary in order to meet a critical situation, but serves to teach the people economy and is, therefore, in a way an advantage.

In this city, power plants have cut from 25 to 40 per cent, the Chamber states, and W. E. French, superintendent of public utilities, declares that a cut in the home use of light from 40 watt lights to one 25 watt light will very easily give Burbank its required cut in power of 25 per cent. This conservation should not be difficult, as practically every household uses around 50 per cent more light than is necessary, Mr. French states.

The Original Stage line, having secured authority from the State Railroad commission, inaugurated express and baggage service between San Fernando and intermediate points, beginning July 1.

Mrs. Bigler, who had been staying with a friend in Los Angeles, has returned to Burbank, and will once more take up her residence at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Matheny of 527 Angeleno avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simons of Long Beach have moved to Burbank and are living in the 900 block on Verdugo avenue. The Simons were Burbank residents some time ago and like it much better than Long Beach. They formerly lived at 444 Angeleno avenue.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, July 2.—Mrs. Darwin of the Tujunga Sanitarium has gone to Sierra City for a vacation during the month of July.

Mrs. Walden D. Fink and Miss Mary Fink of La Verne are spending a week with relatives in Tujunga.

Mr. and Mrs. John Steven McGroarty were recently the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Thomas of La Crescenta.

C. C. Niemeyer, pioneer resident of Tujunga, is recovering from a fall in which he fractured his hip while on a hike in Big Tujunga canyon a few days ago.

Other members of the party improved a strainer and carried Mr. Niemeyer down the canyon to where the autos were parked.

J. H. Lamson, Tujunga photographer, has finished some photographs of the new county park at Big Pine, which he made for the county officials. A series of pictures of Camp Conifer Girl Scouts engaged in camp activities were also made.

Mrs. L. May Dean of Tujunga entertained her daughter, Mrs. Grant Williams of Glendale, last week.

Dr. James E. Littlefield of Atascadero has been visiting friends in Tujunga.

Mrs. Charles J. Bloore has been visiting her mother at Fontana, recuperating from the shock of her husband's death last week.

Mrs. Anna Lamson Ellwell of Atascadero has been visiting her brother, J. H. Lamson of Tujunga.

Mrs. Angelo of Michigan avenue has been carrying an arm in a sling as a result of a fall that wrenched that member.

Jesse Baughman of the Baughman Hardware company is on a business trip to Kansas City.

Mrs. W. J. Berkson and son Ralph of Mamaroneck, N. Y., will spend the summer in Tujunga.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Patterson of Tujunga have been enjoying a visit with their daughter, Mrs. Roy E. Grapp of Minneapolis, who, with her son George, is spending a vacation in Tujunga.

Mrs. Anna Underhill of Tujunga has been visiting relatives in the Mississippi valley. She expects to return to her home and will be accompanied by her brother, who will make his home in Tujunga.

Mrs. John F. Smith, sister of Mrs. T. C. Bludworth, and her husband and daughter of Ranger, Texas, have been visiting in Tujunga.

Scoutmaster Earl C. Brunner led a party of Boy Scouts on a week-end camp at Elizabeth Lake. Included in the party were: Stewart Correll, Masson Grant, Jimmie Greer, Bob Cresswell, Wallace Schoch, Louis Richie. Other members of Troop 2 expect to make the same trip soon.

FIRE WIPES OUT CRESCENTA HOME

Glendale Firemen Keep Blaze
From Spreading Into Adjacent Trees

LA CRESCENTA, July 2.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Haney, on Honolulu avenue, was burned to the ground yesterday afternoon. Help from every part of the valley responded and the La Crescenta fire department and neighbors succeeded in saving the greater portion of the living room furniture.

The Glendale fire department responded in record time to the call, but the fire had gained too great headway. However, the Glendale department succeeded in keeping the trees from igniting and the flames from spreading to the Carson home next door. The home was only partially covered by insurance. The cause of the outbreak is unknown.

Playgrounds Open
The La Crescenta summer playground opened yesterday afternoon, a good game of baseball starting the venture off. Principal A. T. Blanford urged all the children of the valley to make use of the playgrounds by having neighborhood picnic parties, which will be supervised by Mr. Newton.

Tomorrow all children of the Sunday school of St. Luke of the mountains will meet at the La Crescenta school grounds at 10 a. m. promptly, for the drive to the Clevee ranch in Little Tujunga. This is the first picnic this Sunday school has had since the school was organized last autumn.

SUNLAND NOTES

SUNLAND, July 2.—Mr. and Mrs. William Rittenaur of Sunland are the parents of a son born Monday, June 23, 1924, at the Tujunga Emergency hospital.

Mrs. Susie French was the guest of honor at a party in celebration of her seventy-fifth birthday, the hostess being her granddaughter, Mrs. Frank Williams. Refreshments were served. Among the guests present were: Miss Ramona French, Mr. and Mrs. Slatman, Mrs. Anna Caulkins, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Meyers and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shaffer.

Mrs. Elmer Adams was hostess to the Thursday Afternoon club at the last meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Adams and Mrs. Mary Willinghurst are spending a vacation at Clear Lake Beach.

Mrs. Justice, hostess at Wildwood Lodge in the Big Tujunga canyon, reports heavy transient traffic in the canyon and a capacity business at the canyon resort. All reservations have been taken for the coming week-end, which includes the extra holiday, July 4.

Entertains Guests At Bridge, Mah Jongg

LA CRESCENTA, July 2.—Mrs. E. N. Nettleton of East Mayfield avenue entertained Tuesday with a bridge and mah jongg party in honor of Mrs. Schofield Keppel, a recent bride. Mrs. Marjorie Bissell, who leaves Thursday for an extended trip north. Mrs. Fred Anderson, who has just returned from an eastern stay; Miss Celia Cross, a guest of Mrs. Mark Collins, and Mrs. Mary B. Nolte and Miss Lola Nolte of Mount Vernon, Ind., who are guests at the Nettleton home.

The guests of honor were each presented with a dainty gift by the hostess. Assisting Mrs. Nettleton in receiving the guests were Mesdames C. E. Culberson, B. Collins Brown, O. C. Armstrong, Thomas Minford, J. Conlin, Margaret Adams and Miss Janet Culberson.

Mrs. Seymour Thomas and Mrs. Richard Dewey presided at the tea urns.

CHILDREN REVEL IN PARK PLUNGE

Patterson Pool Is Mecca for Youngsters, Need For More Room Shown

Since the opening of the Patterson park swimming pool, on May 24, an average of 150 children per day have used the facilities offered by the city, and on many of the warmer days the equipment has been taxed to capacity by the large number desiring to use the plunge, according to Samuel Warren, manager. On several occasions the boys and girls have been turned away or forced to stand in line for long periods because of the lack of lockers and dressing rooms, he says. Since the close of school, a week and a half ago, the crowds have increased in size, and the pool is jammed with a shouting, wriggling, joyously happy throng of youngsters from early morning until late in the afternoon, when they have to be chased out of the water by the attendants at closing time. At the present time the plunge is open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. every day, and the park board is considering opening it for several hours after dinner on two or three nights of the week.

Urges Larger Pool
 In pointing out the need for a larger and better equipped plunge, Mr. Warren mentioned the fact that very few adults use the present pool. He feels that if the pool were enlarged and apparatus provided for heating the water, the adult patronage would nearly double the number now using it. The older people do not enjoy the cold water that the youngsters find invigorating, he says. In spite of the crowded conditions, perfect sanitation is insured by the care with which all equipment is handled. The plunge is drained every other day and given a complete scrubbing out. Suits and towels are washed in hot water after being used and are treated in a disinfecting chemical preparation before they are placed back on the shelves. The low admission prices charged enable all the children in town to use the plunge as often as they desire. For boys and girls under 16 years of age the charge is only 5 cents if they bring their own suit and towel, and 10 cents if furnished by the plunge. Adults are charged 15 cents when having suit and towel and 25 cents when without. Mr. Warren states that the plunge is paying for its upkeep under this price schedule.

Booklets Show Many Ways to Cook Apples

A large supply of booklets containing 150 recipes for apple dishes issued by the agricultural department of the Union Pacific system has been received by C. A. Redmond, passenger agent for that line in this city. He is prepared to distribute the booklets free to housewives of Glendale interested in trying these tested and approved recipes. Besides the great variety of tasty dishes described in the booklet, there is also a section devoted to the growth of the apple industry on the Pacific coast and a table giving the months in which the different varieties are in season. Mr. Redmond states that every woman would find it an aid in preparing pleasing and practical desserts and salads. They can be secured at the Union Pacific office, 129 South Brand boulevard.

City Manager Tells Chamber Of Commerce Directors He Favors Auxiliary Power Plant

The proposal to establish an auxiliary power plant in Glendale was discussed before the directors of the Chamber of Commerce last night by V. B. Stone, city manager, who stated that, while he favored the installation of a plant that would be sufficient to supply the ordinary pumping and lighting load of the city and to take care of Glendale in an emergency such as the present one, it would take at least six months, and possibly a year, before such a plant could be installed and in operation.

"Many people believe that such a plant would be good 'insurance,' and, too, would help to get a lower rate from the power company." Mr. Stone declared that it would not be feasible to pump water for the city through a temporary plant such as is being advocated at present, as the widely scattered locations of the city's fourteen wells would necessitate the installation of separate gas engines on every well and also the installation of a booster plant to drive the water into the reservoirs. Much of the argument in favor of a plant of this nature, he stated, is based on an incomplete knowledge of the situation, and he decried any attempt to "force the City Council, by pressure of public opinion, to do something that would be ill advised."

Power Hours Remain
 An auxiliary power plant of sufficient capacity to carry the ordinary pumping and lighting load would cost about $300,000. Mr. Stone declared, and the only type of power for such a plant would be the steam turbine, so that, should the gas supply fail, the plant could be run with oil. The city of Glendale, he said, will go through the power shortage this summer and will be able to pump water for its needs from the steam load, without interfering with its quota of electricity.

DEMOCRACY IS SUCCEEDING—

If the children of the poor have a chance at an education.
When men hold their right to vote in high esteem.
When moral issues are more influential than money profits.
When citizenship does not depend upon color or birth.
If men have a right to worship according to their conscience.

THE USE OF THE FLAG

The various states have passed laws to prevent desecration of the flag and provide punishment for the abuse of our national emblem. In addition to these laws the army and navy have regulations for the use of the flag, and certain customs have grown up among the civilians in the treatment of it.

California statutes provide for the hoisting of a flag above every schoolhouse during sessions of school, the weather permitting, and also for the display of smaller flags in schoolrooms. It is not allowed to print advertising or any inscription or design upon the flag nor to use it as a trade-mark. Defiling, defacing and mutilating of the flag is forbidden.

While the flag is a symbol for the country for which it stands, and the rules formulated for the treatment of the flag should be observed, patriotism in the heart is more to be desired than outward observance of forms, and so the one who hangs a flag at the improper angle or drapes it contrary to rule should not be dealt with too severely. It is the spirit that counts. Some people who would like to display the flag on national holidays and other occasions do not do so for fear of breaking some rule.

Some real estate companies have used the flag in place of the colored banners that have become so popular in marking new subdivisions in Southern California. There can be no criticism of the display of the flag providing the rules prohibiting its desecration, allowing it to become tattered and torn, permitting it to touch the ground and to remain out after sundown are observed. But these subdividers hardly observe all these rules.

The idea of a national flag had its inception among primitive peoples who bore aloft some object on a staff as a symbol of a common sentiment of the early tribal association formed for mutual protection and which was the nucleus of present-day government.

There are people who use the flag as a shield. They hide behind it. Especially did we see many such cases during the war. People who were lacking in the spirit of love of country waved the flag frantically to conceal the fact that they were disloyal. This often happens, too, in time of peace, and the people who cover their disloyalty with the flag are very careful to observe all the rules. On the other hand people who have patriotism in their hearts often do not display the flag or, if they do, may break some rule or violate some custom they did not know existed.

The stars and stripes are the symbol of freedom, but there are instances when they have been made the emblem of personal spite and abuse. Patriotic people have been persecuted for some unintentional slight to the flag while their accusers, unpatriotic themselves, were using the flag as a means of taking out their spite. Their misuse of the flag was greater than that of the ones they accused.

Of course, we should all know the rules governing the use of the flag and the customs that have been introduced by the patriotic organizations. We should all have respect and love for the flag, but it is not always best to judge one's patriotism too quickly by the way in which he may ignorantly display the flag.

General Nelson A. Miles once said, "Patriotism should be spontaneous and cannot be legislated into the hearts of the people." You cannot make people loyal and patriotic by compelling them to salute the flag.

Children in the schools of California are being taught to love and respect the flag. The salute to the flag is about the first thing that the kindergartners are taught. A little boy was asked after his first week at kindergarten what he had learned, and he said he had learned to "snoot" the flag. Inculcating the love for flag and country in the hearts of the children is going to bear good fruit some day.

Henry Ward Beecher said of the flag, "It is not a painted rag. It is a whole national history. It is the Constitution. It is the government. It is the free people that stand in the government on the Constitution. Forget not what it means; and for the sake of its ideas, be true to your country's flag."

ADVERTISING AS AN ALADDIN

People who are tired of the fiction and the drama dished up in modern magazines and theatres should read the stories of some of the big advertising campaigns, their methods and results. They are dramatic and romantic and read like fiction, but they have the merit of being fact.

For instance the diving girl in the red bathing suit that we pasted on the windshield of our car last summer originated as a window display. An employee of the Jantzen knitting mills in Portland, Oregon, pasted one of these on his windshield and it quickly became the rage. Cars carried this advertisement all over the west. This year millions of these diving girls have been sent to dealers all over the United States and they will be popular from the Atlantic to the Pacific. People ask for them. Advertising takes a novel turn when the people ask a manufacturer for the privilege of advertising for him.

The development by accident of a well known floor covering from a low gravity oil while trying to dissolve the oil by chemical action reads like a story and the methods of advertising this product by laying strips in the middle of Fifth avenue, New York, is unusual and interesting.

California products, oranges, prunes, raisins, olives and nuts have not found a market in the east by accident, and the story of the methods used to distribute these products is illuminating. A few years ago the raisin men of California were in danger of losing their entire crop through lack of a market, and the product was saved when some one suggested putting up the raisins in a five-cent package and putting on an intensive advertising campaign.

A western manufacturer of men's collars and ties tried for seventeen years to get a foothold. He tells of his advertising campaign and how after eighteen months he has strongly entrenched his trademark not only in the west but against strong competition in the east.

There are many stories in which advertising figures as a veritable Aladdin. They are both interesting and illuminating.

The American Indian, when hungry, tightened his belt; the American broker, when hungry, loosens his.

The early bird that gets the worm is also the bird that takes his exercise before breakfast.

PEN IMPRESSIONS FROM DEM'S CONVENTION

Vacation

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Vacation days are coming.

The warmth of Summer is creeping into the air, the Spring fever is invading our bones, we find ourselves dreaming of the old swimming hole, and longing to be hiking over the mountain or beating down the coast of Cape Cod before a spanking breeze.

And then—we look at our job, our prospects, our interests and our ambitions, and make up our mind to stick to business this Summer.

Concerning which the best advice is—Don't.

Relax.

Let go, spit on your hands and when you take home again you can hit harder.

But, for that matter, it's a poor plan to wait for vacation for relaxation. We ought to do some of it every day.

That man can hold hardest who knows how to let go.

Keeping everlastingly at it brings success—maybe; also paresis.

Every life needs a little vagabondage to offset the bondage.

Take a day off now and then. Stack up your papers and if anything comes up, let George do it. Get away, and don't take anything or anybody with you.

Play Haroun Al Raschid.

Get the banana peddler's ideas.

Go down to where the shipping is. At the water's edge is always the laziest life.

Or go into the country.

Sit on a log and whistle a stick.

Lean back against a tree and listen to the universe.

Find a lake and look long at it, and let your mind run down.

Follow a brook up the way to nowhere.

You are an animal yourself.

You forget that—and come to grief.

Bel. Don't forget to be doing!

Slow up! Let the thundering train of progress go by, and smile, as you hear its receding whistle in the distance.

Horoscope

This should be a fairly favorable day for most human activities, astrologers announce. The Sun, Uranus and Neptune are all in benefic aspect, while Mars is mildly adverse.

The new Moon of this date forebodes more favorable conditions for most lines of business, and a general upward trend of the commercial thermometer.

Although business should benefit at this time there is a sign not reassuring where financial conditions are concerned. Much fraud and swindling are indicated.

Railways will continue to have heavy business and to record unusual numbers of travelers, but Mars is in an aspect that apparently warns of the likelihood of accidents.

Disasters to pleasure parties and to persons who frequent places of amusement are strongly foreshadowed.

Again keen interest in foreign investments will be manifested, and international relations probably will be discussed with intense feeling.

There is an especially favorable sign for industry, and increase of political power for workers is prophesied.

Neptune and Uranus today are in aspects read as forecasting much political propaganda that will influence the masses against traditional policies of government.

Those who seek work today probably will be successful, but they may be disappointed in the wages obtainable.

A member of the cabinet is in danger of personal injuries, if the stars are read aright.

Legal suits against public servants of various ranks will be numerous during the autumn, it is foretold.

The partial eclipse of the Sun on the last day of this month is held to indicate a scarcity of wheat, and to warn of the sudden death of a prince.

Persons whose birth date it is may expect a very successful year. Domestic affairs should be satisfactory, if quarrels are avoided.

Children born on this day are likely to win general respect all through life. These subjects of Cancer may be restless and fond of change, but able to win success in whatever careers they choose.

In parts of Africa, 25,000 elephants can be found within a radius of 20 miles, it has been said.

Today's Poem

THE DESIRE
Give me no mansions ivory white
Nor palaces of pearl and gold;
Give me a child for all delight
Just four years old.

Give me no wings of rosy shine
Nor snowy raiment, fold on fold;
Give me a little boy all mine,
Just four years old.

Give me no gold and starry crown
Nor harps, nor palm branches unrolled;
Give me a nestling head of brown,
Just four years old.

Give me a cheek that's like the peach,
Two arms to clasp me from the cold;
And all my heaven's within my reach,
Just four years old.

Dear God, You give me from Your skies
A little paradise to hold,
As Mary once her Paradise,
Just four years old.

The Ravings Of a Crouch

A man who has splendid ideas and good judgment never has a chance to show what he can do. I am a pretty able fellow but the only chance I have to express myself is on election day and then I can only vote what is on the ballot—there is no opportunity to express my individuality or put my own ideas into practice.

If I had any voice in managing Glendale's affairs I would see to it that no corporation ever got such a hold on us again that it would have the authority to tell us to darken our homes, our stores and to quit work.

If I were at the head of things I should remedy this condition right away. Why wait? Yes, we have other projects, such as the sewer, up now, but what good will a sewer do a dead city? If the shortage of power is due, as is said, to the low rainfall of last winter, we cannot hope for relief before next winter and not then should we have another year of light rainfall.

When you kill a city's business and hamper all its activities, you might as well call the city dead and summon the undertaker. Glendale will be dead long before the advent of the rainy season and we shall not need a sewer or paved streets. And if it is known that we have taken no steps to prevent a repetition of the condition, should the same emergency arise again, we will stay dead.

Glendale has made great strides in growth and has spent a lot of effort and a great deal of money to continue development and prosperity. But we are at the mercy of a corporation which says "Cut payrolls, curtail business, put out the lights, do away with your electric appliances and go back to the dark ages."

As long as some one has the authority to tell us to "Stop all progress," we can not pretend to be a progressive city.

If I had my way I would get Glendale out from under the yoke of this corporation right away. Why wait until the emergency is over? The emergency may never be over. We have had a light rainfall for several consecutive years. The same may happen again.

If I were running this city I should let it be known that I was taking steps to set Glendale free. No, it couldn't be accomplished all at once but we could tell the world we were progressing. As it is now, we are going backward. It would be mighty appropriate to sign our declaration of independence and ring the old liberty bell at this time of the year.

Claims England Never Will Turn Socialist

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—The Labor party in England is governing, but not ruling, according to I. M. Bampton, London lecturer, who is a visitor here.

"The English people are not socialistic in their tendencies, and never will be," he said in an interview. "Deep in every Englishman is the belief in the divine right of ownership. Therefore, England will never agree to denial of the rights of private property, which, after all, is the basis of socialism."

Love for Cards Leads To Divorce for Hubby

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—Anne Fishman is without a husband today because of her love for cards.

After he had testified that his wife was a card fiend and spent most of her time playing cards, Joseph Fishman was granted a divorce.

He said he once offered to buy his wife a $1000 diamond ring if she would quit the cards. She answered, according to Fishman, "I wouldn't quit for $50,000."

Prison Wedding Turns Out Badly, Is Claim

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—Never marry in jail!

That is the advice of pretty Doris Kimball Minich of this city. She married Minch, she claims, when he was behind the bars, to save him from prosecution for a Mann act violation.

Now he has obtained a divorce on the grounds of desertion. Their wedded life was unhappy, Mrs. Minich said.

Pacific Warships to Greet British Fleet

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—The Pacific fleet flagship California and several dreadnaughts will welcome the British "round-the-world" flyers in San Francisco on their arrival from Honolulu, July 8, according to word received at fleet headquarters here.

The Idaho, Mississippi and Tennessee will be among the welcoming battalions.

Motor Body Builders Add to Working Force

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 1.—Bettendorf, the automobile manufacturing business is indicated by the recall of men for the rough finishing mill of the Fisher Body company of Ohio, which department has been idle for two weeks.

30,000 Acres Ruined By 400 Forest Fires

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Chimexing previous appeals for public assistance in combating the fire hazard in the forests this season, Paul Redington, United States district forester, says that over 400 fires, devastating 30,000 acres already have occurred this year within and adjacent to national forests.

"It must be impressed on people that when they are out-of-doors they should be as careful with fire as they are in their own home," commented Redington. "Only in this way can appalling losses be prevented. Last year over 80 per cent of forest, brush and grain fires were directly due to careless acts of men."

Official Minutes Of City Council

Following are the minutes of the Glendale City Council as prepared by the city clerk.

Council assembled Tuesday, July 1, at 10 o'clock a. m. Present: Hall, Gilhuly, Kimlin, Robinson. Absent: Davis. Minutes of June 26 read and approved.

Improvement of Central Ave.
The clerk notified the Council that this was the time, hour and place fixed for continued hearing on all protests or objections against the proposed improvement or extension of the district for the improvement of Central avenue in the City of Glendale as partially described in Resolution of Intention No. 2431, passed by the Council on the 5th day of June, 1924. The Clerk reported to the Council that written protests had been referred to the City Engineer for checking and that a petition asking that a change be made in the proceedings in reference to light standards had also been referred to the City Engineer and asked that the same had been returned showing 51.35 per cent of the total frontage. The Clerk also reported that he had received written requests from signers of the above named petition representing approximately one-half of said signers asking that their names be removed from said petition, whereupon the Mayor asked if there were any interested persons present who desired to be heard and all interested persons having been given full opportunity to show cause why the proposed improvement should not be carried out in accordance with the said Resolution of Intention and all objections having been heard and considered, on motion of Councilman Gilhuly, all protests were denied.

Assessment Alpha Road
The Clerk notified the Council that this was the time, hour and place fixed for hearing protests or objections to the work, assessment, diagram or any act, determination or proceeding of the Street Superintendent or City Engineer for the improvement of Alpha road from Verdugo road east, as more particularly described in Resolution of Intention No. 2267, passed by the Council of the City of Glendale on the 24th day of January, 1924, and the Clerk also reported to the Council that he had not received any written protests or objections up to the time set for hearing. Whereupon the Mayor asked if there were any interested persons present who desired to be heard, and all interested persons having been given full opportunity to show cause why the proposed assessment should not be carried out in accordance with the diagram exhibiting the district to be assessed to pay the costs of said improvement, and all objections having been heard and considered, on motion of Councilman Hall, seconded by Councilman Gilhuly, all protests were denied.

On motion of Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman Hall, assessment roll for the improvement of Alpha road, from Verdugo road east, as prepared by the Street Superintendent, was confirmed.

Maternity Home
The application signed by Doctor Harry H. Ellis, asking for permit to maintain and operate a maternity home at 421 North Brand boulevard, was read, same having been referred to the Health Department, and was returned with report. On motion of Councilman Hall, seconded by Councilman Gilhuly, application was denied.

Gospel Tent
On motion of Councilman Hall, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, the United Brethren Church was granted an extension of three months on permit to maintain a tent at Glenwood road and Irving avenue, for the purpose of holding regular church services and Sunday school.

Flood Waters
On motion of Councilman Hall, seconded by Councilman Gilhuly, the following resolution was adopted: Resolved: Whereas, flood waters have in the past done considerable damage in Sycamore Canyon due to lack of proper control; and
Whereas, Los Angeles County Flood Control District has the necessary funds for the caring of this flood control work;
Now, therefore, be it resolved by the council of the City of Glendale:
That the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county is hereby requested to improve its right of way along Sycamore Canyon road between Sinclair avenue and Sierra avenue, by proceeding at once to advertise for bids for the construction of proper improvements, of similar nature hitherto constructed, for the control of flood waters.

Planning Commission
Communication from the Planning Commission regarding foothill subdivisions was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

Improvement Forest Ave.
On motion of Councilman Gilhuly, seconded by Councilman Hall, City Engineer was instructed to proceed with the improvement of Forest avenue and to include work on Brand boulevard by changing culvert in accordance with provisions made in budget for payment of said work.

Salary Ordinance
Communication from City Engineer regarding payment of levellin's salary, was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

Resolution Adopted
City Engineer reported the bid of Hugh Cornwell and John W. Henderson as the lowest responsible bidder for the improvement of Acacia avenue, Columbus avenue, Park avenue, Garfield avenue and Windsor road.
Councilman Kimlin introduced a Resolution entitled, "A Resolution of the Council of the City of Glendale awarding the contract for the improvement of portions of Columbus avenue, Park avenue, Acacia avenue, Garfield avenue and Windsor road, with said city," which was read and on his motion seconded by Councilman Gilhuly, the same was numbered Resolution No. 2469, and adopted.

On motion of Councilman Gilhuly, seconded by Councilman Hall, duly carried, meeting was adjourned.

STATES VIEWS ON CITY POWER PLANT

W. B. Davis Asserts There
Are Other Questions
More Important

By W. B. DAVIS
Of the Davis-Glendale Company
Editor The Evening News—Referring to the present power shortage, I desire to protest against any hasty decision to push through the procedure for Glendale to build an electric power plant at this time, and knowing the policy of fairness on the part of The Glendale News, I believe you will not hesitate to publish the other side of the case which so far has not been heard.

I believe in the advisability of municipal plants generally, and seldom object to any public improvements, but I feel that there are now other problems decidedly more important than building an electric plant. We are temporarily inconvenienced, but will quickly adjust ourselves to new requirements and our real danger is from water shortage. Long before a new power plant could be built and put in operation the Edison company will probably be in position to avoid such temporary inconvenience in future by having more emergency steam plants prepared as well as more hydro-electric power generated in the mountains. What we need most is emergency pumping outfits that can maintain our water supply when electric pumps stop, due to shortage of power or from destruction of the power lines over the mountains in case of forest fires as sometimes occurs. To depend upon electricity alone is, right now, very unsafe.

Emergency Equipment
Emergency pumping equipment should be installed as quickly as possible, arranged for combination natural gas or distillate power, natural gas being quite dependable in time of fires and even in case of serious earthquakes, because the mains are of very flexible welded steel pipe, and supplied from three sides of the community, engines built to use either gas or distillate as desired give two other chances instead of one, when electricity is cut off, which would insure maximum protection at the pumping plant and could be installed in a reasonably short time. This would also relieve the load on electric current so it would be available for other uses.

Most people in signing petitions do so simply because asked and even to look unfriendly to refuse or even to hesitate. It is really up to the city officials to use their best judgment in final decisions regardless of petitions. They are in position to know what is best and deserve our confidence.

Paying for Homes
The requirements for new schools, greater water supply and sewers, create such a great necessary expense, that any investment not absolutely necessary should not be considered seriously at this time. Most property owners will agree that taxes are high enough now and particularly the people who are paying for homes. They are more interested in getting their homes paid for than in seeing bright lights which can temporarily be dispensed with.

Many people look upon a bond issue as an easy way to get money desired, not figuring that part of that has to be paid back regularly with interest and is added to their tax bill. A bond of a corporation is nothing more than a note or agreement to pay back the money at a certain date with interest frequently.

No Lower Rates, Claim
It is a mistake to expect to get lower rates on electricity by installing a municipal plant. The cost of producing electricity in steam plants is greater than by water power and to that operating expense must be added the interest and depreciation on the plant, also installments payable on the bonds which must either be met by increased rates for electricity or if rates not increased the expense must be added to our general tax bills.

Comparatively few large manufacturing industries have their own generating plants because it is cheaper for them to buy electric current than to make it themselves, and by buying it they have their capital to use where more advisable or necessary. The same reasons would be just as good for Glendale under present circumstances. We can't have all these things we would like without considerable increase in taxes.

Protect Water Supply
If we protect our water supply we can stand some other inconveniences. The industries and ranchers are getting all kinds of gas and oil engines into operation to use to save electric current and if the people co-operate in saving in homes and business houses the required reduction will be arranged without serious inconvenience or loss to industries and we will soon get adjusted to it.

The fire hazard is, however, greatly increased due to general use of candles, kerosene lamps and matches. Good, wide fire-breaks should be made all along the base of the Verdugo mountains to prevent fires coming down into the residence section or from starting in vacant lots near mountains and sweeping up the entire south slope of the range.

Killing of gophers, woodchucks and other burrowing pests by pumping the deadly exhaust gas from a tractor into the holes is the idea of a Wisconsin farmer.

Fur-bearing, with web feet, and able to fly by extending their stomachs, members of a new type of bird or animal are puzzling zoologists in French Cochinchina.

In Southern California have endorsed a daylight saving plan and other organizations are also giving its endorsement.

Hog Production Back To Normal, Is Report

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The June pig survey of the department of agriculture shows that the flood of hog production in the corn belt reaching its high point in the spring crop of 1923 is now rapidly receding and has practically reached a normal level, it has been announced. A decrease of about 8,000,000 pigs in the spring crop in the corn belt is indicated.

Diet And Health

BURNS

Until a few years ago, a person who was burned even superficially over one-quarter of the body surface was very liable to die, and if one-third of his skin was burned, he was practically sure to die. It was not understood why superficial burns were so fatal, but it was supposed that there were poisons produced by the burnt tissue which were absorbed by the blood and caused the kidneys to become acutely inflamed, so that the patient died of Bright's disease.

With this idea that absorption from the burnt tissue is largely the cause of fatal poisoning, has come the newer treatment of burns, and now patients who are burned over even greater area of surface than one-third, have recovered. The treatment is to remove this damaged tissue by a very thorough scrubbing of the surface. This, of course, has to be done under anaesthesia.

After the skin surface has been thoroughly cleansed, different procedures are used by different physicians to keep the surface clean, and antiseptic. One of the methods is the immersion of the body in a bath of normal salt solution—a salt solution of the same concentration of salt as is found in the blood, which is six tenths of one per cent. Another method is a specially prepared wax, and another is antiseptic ointments. This combined treatment not only has the effect of removing the poisons so that they will not be absorbed by the system, but it also prevents the destruction of the little hair follicles of the skin.

You remember when I described the hair, I told you that the hair with its follicle or hair pit could be compared to a blunt needle, pressed down into the skin—the needle representing the hair, and the little pit made by the needle representing the follicle; that is, the skin digs down into the little pit.

In superficial burns, there are many of these little pits of skin which are not destroyed and the cells on the edge of these skin pits immediately begin to multiply and form little islands of new skin. These skin islands join later, and in connection with the new skin growing from the edges, covers the surface. Skin graftings are still used if necessary.

Before this newer treatment was practiced, when the burns healed, there was a very heavy scar tissue formed which was not only disfiguring but sometimes, through its contraction, caused crippling and deformities. (Of course, if the destruction is deep, scar tissue must form.) Small burns, while not of particular danger, may be exceedingly painful, the pain being way out of proportion to the size. We all know what great relief comes from holding a burn in cool water, and if you can do this, there is no reason why you should not. There is an old theory that by holding the burned member in hot water the fire would bring out the fire, or something to that effect. There's nothing in that, and it only intensifies the pain.

A good treatment for small and moderate sized burns, where the skin is not broken, is freshly scraped potato pulp. The potassium salts in the potato tend to neutralize the over-acidity in the burned tissue, and the evaporation and the alkali cause lessening of the pain. The pulp has to be changed very often. Another simple treatment to lessen the blisters is to bandage thickly and keep the bandage moistened with witch hazel.

Later the burns can be treated with a liberal supply of a mild antiseptic ointment. Sometimes plain lanoline seems to be more effective than the antiseptic ointments. The chief thing is to keep a liberal supply of ointment applied, changing it daily and keeping it on until the burn is healed, so that the tissue remain soft and no hard scar forms. The old remedy—linseed and lime water, half and half (carroll oil)—is smelly and not so effective in most cases.

If the tissue is broken so that blisters are formed, the blisters should be left. But if the blisters break they had best be cut off. This is because infection is liable to get under them and cause suppuration.

I have received the following letters from readers of this column, each one containing a recipe, for which I want to thank these kind contributors.

"Mitchell's Prize Crop". One of your readers recently asked for a recipe for the following. Scotch Haggis: Procure one sheep's pluck and one sheep's stomach bag. Wash the pluck well and put it into a pot with water to cover, letting the windpipe hang out of the pot so that any impurities will come out through it. Boil gently for about two hours. Boil your butcher clean the stomach bag, then wash it well and put it over the fire in cold water; bring to a boil, which will cause the bag to contract, after which take it from the water immediately, wash and scrape it well, then lay it in salt and water till needed. Mince the best part of the lungs and heart of the pluck discarding all the gristly part. Grate the best parts of the liver (of the pluck) and then put all into a large bowl. Put one-half pound of oatmeal on a dish in your oven and toast it well, then add it to the contents of the bowl. Chop the contents of the bowl finely with two teaspoons of salt and one of pepper; add a large cup of water in which the pluck was boiled and turn this mixture into the bowl with the other ingredients. Fill the stomach bag with this forcemeat, with the smooth side inside and not filling it too full. Sew up the opening. Prick the bag in several places with a darning needle to keep it from bursting, then put it into a pot in boiling water to cover and simmer for three hours.

"A Reader Friend: One of your readers asked for the following: Three-Egg Angel Food Cake: Beat three egg whites stiff, then beat into them one cup of sugar, and one teaspoon of vanilla. Chop in one and one-half cups of flour which have been sifted with three teaspoons of baking powder and one-half teaspoon of cream of tartar. Last add two-thirds of a cup of scalded milk and bake in a moderate oven about forty or fifty minutes."

"M. L.: Here is a recipe for Anchovy Cheese Crackles, which was recently requested. Mix together the contents from one tube of anchovy paste, one small cream cheese, one teaspoon of onion juice and one tablespoon each of butter and lemon juice. Spread this paste on very thin slices of bread, roll, and toast in oven, turning when brown."

Tomorrow—Baking With an Oven Thermometer

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, and will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

DEATHS - FUNERALS

HAROLD D. THOMAS
Harold D. Thomas, 24, a salesman for the Standard Oil company, died at a local hospital Wednesday, July 2, 1924. He was a resident of Van Nuys, but when taken ill a short time ago, was brought to Glendale for treatment.

He is survived by his wife, Lucille, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Thomas, of 1227 East Lexington Drive, Glendale, and a brother, Gale, of the same address.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, July 5, at the Little Church of the Flowers, West Lawn Memorial park. Keifer & Eylerick are in charge of the funeral arrangements. The parents of the deceased ask all employees of the Standard Oil company to attend the services.

MRS. CHARLOTTE E. TRAXLER
Funeral services for Mrs. Charlotte E. Traxler were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Little Church of the Flowers in West Lawn Memorial park. Floyd Mercer, acting pastor of the Central Christian church, officiated. Mrs. Traxler, who is survived by her husband, Dr. P. S. Traxler, died Monday at her home, 301 West Lorraine street.

J. O. C. Affair

J. O. C. class members of the First Methodist church held their regular monthly business meeting last night in the church parlors with Mrs. Nellie Wheeler, first vice president, in charge in the absence of the president, Mrs. Bell Kuehny.

The devotional services were led by Rev. C. R. Norton, associate teacher of the class. He also gave a patriotic talk during the social hour. Other numbers on the program included several readings by Mrs. G. Edwin Murphy, member of the professional department of the Emerson School of Self-Expression. The piano solos given by Miss Irma Lucas were also greatly enjoyed.

Refreshments were served at tables attractively decorated in red, white and blue. At each guest's place a tiny silk flag was placed. The committee in charge of the affair, included Mrs. Jack Wagner, chairman, and Mesdames Shields, Thiessen, Harry White, Nellie Wheeler, Williamson and Trowbridge.

At Bowers' Home

The regular monthly business meeting of the Philathea class of the First Methodist church held last night at the home of Miss Marjorie Bowers, 827 East Colorado street, was the largest attended and most enthusiastic meeting held by the class for several months. There were over thirty members in attendance.

The meeting convened at 6:30 o'clock with a caterpillar dinner, followed by the regular business session presided over by the president, Mrs. Lois Swindell. During the meeting Miss Nyda Dana, chairman of the committee in charge of the recent silver tea, gave a report relative to the proceeds of the affair, which were applied toward the missionary pledge. Mrs. Scripps presented a check to the treasurer which included silver offerings and mite box offerings taken during the Sunday morning class study hour, also to be added to the missionary fund. The balance of the $50.00 pledge, and several dollars more, was raised by the members present. All above the $50.00 pledge will be applied on next year's missionary fund.

Plans were inaugurated for a social affair to be given Tuesday night, July 15. This will probably be in the nature of a lawn party. Further details will be announced at a later date.

Of special importance to the members was the report of the nominating committee, given by Miss Helen Woods, chairman. The annual election of officers will take place at the next regular business meeting, August 5. The meeting was adjourned with the singing of the class song, "Service for Others."

Gives Silver Cup

One of the features of the dance Saturday night at the Oakmont Country club will be a prize dance, for which a silver cup is being donated by H. M. Parker. The cup will be awarded to the couple receiving the most applause. The dancers will also be entertained with a clothespin relay race.

Kiddies of Oakmont Country club families are to be entertained at the clubhouse Friday afternoon at a jolly Fourth of July party. Plans are being made for unique entertainment. Wagon rides will be Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Worley, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Baird and Mr. and Mrs. Max Lynn Green.

Canadians Meet

The Glendale Canadian club will meet Thursday night, July 3, at the K. P. hall, Brand boulevard and Park avenue for the regular monthly business meeting. After a short business session, the rest of the evening will be devoted to an informal social hour. Refreshments will be served by the social committee.

Meeting Tonight

The Women's Union Label league will meet tonight, July 2, in the Odd Fellows' hall at 7:30 o'clock. It is announced. A social hour will be enjoyed and refreshments served later in the evening.

Attorney Woodard to Defend Control Board

Attorney Bert P. Woodard, chairman of the legislative committee of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, will be retained by the suit that has been filed against the organization by Charles R. Stuart, the advertising agent who prepared the copy for the city's advertising campaign and who has now employed attorney to take action to recover $750 which he claims is due for his services. The Board of Control had authorized the payment of $250 to Mr. Stuart for his services, but the latter rejected this offer and is demanding the figure originally charged.

The Chamber of Commerce directors last night voted to endorse the action of the Board of Control in deciding to contest the claim made by Mr. Stuart, and Attorney Woodard will hold a conference within a few days with G. R. Dexter and Howard B. Henshelly, the attorneys representing Mr. Stuart.

Dinner in Garden

Dinner served in the attractive garden of the home of Mrs. Virginia Freeman at 316 West Dryden street, honored Mrs. Freeman's husband, Richard Freeman, last night, on the occasion of his birthday.

The garden was lighted by countless lights shining from inverted Japanese umbrellas and from lanterns. A three-course dinner was served, with a birthday cake as a feature. Included in the company were Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Phillips, Miss Dorothy Phillips, Thomas Dunn, Mrs. Gertrude Holden, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gresham, Mrs. Roberta T. Young and Mr. and Mrs. Freeman.

INSTALL REBEKAH LODGE OFFICERS

Mrs. Venona Borden Takes Post of Noble Grand For Coming Year

Carnation Rebekah lodge installed a new corps of officers at the lodge meeting last night in the Odd Fellows hall on West Broadway, with Della Hause, district deputy president; Ursula Morrey, deputy grand marshal, and members of the Edelweiss installing staff conducting the ceremonial.

Elective officers installed were Venona Borden, noble grand; Viola Ertel, vice grand; Gula Darling, recording secretary; Mabel Goodfellow, financial secretary; Winnie Hartley, treasurer; Carl W. Schwitters, Henry Hollenbeck and Daniel Hall, trustees.

Appointive Officers

Praise Officers

During the evening, speeches were made by Della Hause and Ursula Morrey, officers directing the installation; W. H. McLean of the sovereign grand lodge; Dr. H. E. Smith, past deputy grand master. The installing officers were highly complimented on their splendid work.

On behalf of the lodge, Mrs. Strother presented a past noble grand's jewel to Marjorie Pease, retiring noble grand. Evelyn Ertel, staff captain, received a fountain pen from staff members. Mrs. Borden, the incoming noble grand, received a lovely gift from her parents.

Program For Year

Announcement was made by Mrs. Ertel that the Rebekah Afternoon club will not meet this week.

The following program was outlined for the remainder of the year: July 15, regular meeting; July 22, staff practice; August 5, initiation; August 19, business and social meeting; August 26, staff practice; August 30, Carnation Rebekah picnic; September 2, initiation; September 16, staff practice; October 7, initiation; October 21, regular meeting; October 28, Halloween dance; November 4, initiation; November 18, regular meeting; November 25, Thanksgiving dance; December 2, initiation; December 16, regular meeting; December 23, Christmas dance.

Japanese Newspaper Shows Tokio Progress

A copy of The Japan Advertiser, one of the largest newspapers published in Japan, has come to the editorial desk of The Glendale Evening News. Two sections go to make up the paper, one devoted to the recent wedding of the Japanese Prince Regent and the Crown Princess, and the other bringing to western eyes an illuminating idea of the progress that is being made in repairing the ravages of the earthquake of last October.

The Japan Advertiser is printed on a high grade of paper and is profusely illustrated with cuts besides being written in a manner that marks an able and well organized editorial and news force.

Fortunately, the woman with a straight figure in the arms, look well in her clothes, and the size of the bust has little to do with it.

Mitzi:—The oils you mention should not be used on the face. Use only fine vegetable oils or creams that have such oils in them. Almond or olive oil are the best choices. Practice deep breathing to fill out your chest. If you take a full daily warm bath, you will find that the pores on your face will begin to clear and they will gradually become smaller till they are not noticed any more.

ANSWERED LETTERS

M. H.:—There is no reason why you should be frightened about your state of health, for if you feel well you may count upon nature taking good care of you. Since you have been so impressed by the harrowing tales about young girls going into decline, it will be a great help to you if you take some motherly woman into your confidence. Your experience is no different than many another girl at your age, so I should not listen to these girls again; and if you take care of your health, you will be all right after a few months.

Polly W.:—I should think that the water from the sulphur springs in Florida would act as a purifier to the blood; but whether or not that you should use the water as a spring tonic will depend upon what else it contains beside sulphur.

For a little child of three to be losing her hair may only mean that she is shedding the fine hair of babyhood, and a stronger growth may be following it. If her scalp is very dry, rub a little bit of olive oil into it every few days. Nothing else should be necessary in the case of a healthy child.

Glendale Physicians Plan $250,000 Hospital

Proposed structure, as shown in architect's drawing below, is to be fitted up with all the latest scientific equipment used in the treatment of disease and will embody every modern idea in hospital treatment. The building will be three stories in height in the center, with wings two stories height, and one story pavilions at each end of the structure, which will be of fire proof construction. Plans for financing the venture have been worked out by the medical men who are sponsoring the project, in conferences with their financial advisers.

Northwest Section for Library Bond Issue

explained that $5000 is already in hand and that $10,000 will come from the $47,000 bonds voted. There will be $33,000 spent on the building at the main library and $4000 on equipment.

Mrs. M. B. Buckman and Mrs. Charles Ellsperman were named a committee to form plans for urging voters to support the issue and turn out to vote in large numbers.

Another mass meeting is to be held July 15 in the Lake district. It will be an outdoor gathering. Full details of plans for the meeting will be made shortly by O. M. Newby.

Present Figures

During the evening some interesting figures and facts were made known by the various speakers. Mrs. Danford, in discussing the need of increased library facilities, stated that the library in the Grand View school now has 318 card holders, that the average monthly circulation of books has been 1318, and that the largest circulation in any one month was 2000. She added that this is a remarkable patronage when one considers that the room used is only about 10 by 15 feet in size and is poorly located.

In the discussion of school affairs a large map of Glendale was shown, giving the location of the senior high school, intermediate and grammar schools. A study and explanation showed that the bulk of Glendale's population will be west of Brand boulevard, first because it contains a larger area, and second because a large part of it adjoins the industrial section south of San Fernando road. It was further stated that at present the population on the west side of Brand boulevard exceeds that on the east side, this same fact being true of the present grammar school enrollment.

Emphasizing the need of more school accommodations for the west side was the statement that for every dollar in school buildings invested on the west side about $5 have been expended on the east side, there being nine schools on the east side, including the new senior high school, Harvard Junior High school and two intermediate schools.

Name Committee

The following committee was appointed to compile data, confer with the two Glendale school boards and submit a report and recommendations as to the date as practicable, as to the progress made and any action which it is deemed necessary to take to insure complete success of the school program as outlined by the mass meetings: E. D. Knuchell, Col. James W. Everington and Mrs. Myrtle B. Buckman.

It was announced that the Fourth Street Improvement association is mailing out 1500 circulars with questionnaires and return stamped envelopes, which will deal with various civic matters, particularly the school situation. Later on the three associations, Foothill, Fourth Street and Western Avenue, will distribute 5000 or more dockers calling for a general mass meeting some time in the latter part of July or early in August.

The next meeting on school matters will be held Thursday, July 10, at the Grand View school, under the auspices of the Fourth Street Improvement association.

Bond Committee Fail To Act on Project

W. A. Hall, Mrs. J. M. Woolsey and Frank Hoopes.

Members who were absent were: A. R. Eastman, Owen C. Emery, I. J. Hoover, Roy L. Kent, Lyman P. Clark, L. H. Wilson, Dr. E. H. Parker, H. M. Bennett, R. M. Brown and Dr. Floyd Thompson.

The next meeting of the committee will be held at 9 o'clock next Wednesday morning, July 9, at the auditorium of the Harvard High school building.

Porto Rico's new capital building will cost $1,000,000.

Glendale, it is proposed, is to have a three story hospital, known as the Physicians and Surgeons Hospital of Glendale, and to be located on Laurel street between Brand boulevard and Central avenue, facing south. The building will cover four large lots, making a total site of 200 by 175 feet. Dr. H. R. Boyer, prominent Glendale physician and president of the local Optimist club, heads the corporation that proposes to erect this $250,000 structure.

Grant E. Dolge & Durant, fiscal agents for the project, with offices in the new Security Trust & Savings bank building, Room 523, announces the following directorate of the Physicians and Surgeons Hospital of Glendale:

Dr. H. R. Boyer, president; Dr. J. E. Eckles, vice-president; Dr. H. C. Smith, treasurer; Dr. O. A. Dieterich, secretary; Dr. O. E. Christ; Dr. H. V. Brown; O. W. Tarr, and Leslie R. Tarr, corporation attorney.

The proposed hospital was designed and will be constructed under the personal supervision of Roth & Parker, architects who are specialists on hospital buildings and equipment. Mr. Dolge states. Accommodation will be provided for seventy-five patients, chiefly in single rooms and two-bed wards.

The plans show the building to be of fireproof construction, three stories in height in the center, with two story wings on either end, from which will project one-story pavilions, the variations in height providing numerous decks and open spaces for patients.

The interior of the building, from patients' rooms to diet kitchens, baths, operating rooms, service departments and heating plant, will be the very latest thing in hospital design, states Mr. Dolge. Special attention has been devoted to a maternity department. The furnishings will be as homelike as possible, eliminating the stereotyped features of the average hospital.

The Physicians and Surgeons Hospital of Glendale has been capitalized at $250,000, Mr. Dolge states, with $50,000 of common and $200,000 of preferred stock, 8 per cent, cumulative, redeemable at 103 per cent, plus earned, unpaid dividends. The Federal Commercial & Savings bank of this city has been designated the escrow agent for all moneys collected, the monies to be held in trust in accordance with the terms of the permit issued by the state commissioner of corporations, to sell the stock of the proposed hospital.

Every bank in Glendale has been supplied with complete information regarding formation of this corporation, states Mr. Dolge, and fullest investigation is invited. Following is a list of doctors given out by Dolge & Durant as subscribers to the fund being raised to build this hospital:

Dr. J. Anderson, Dr. E. T. Remmen, Dr. C. F. Tuomy, Dr. B. S. Warner, Dr. H. R. Harrower, Dr. H. F. Friesen, Dr. R. E. Chase, Dr. H. J. Cooper, Dr. Riley Russell, Dr. Laura Brown, Dr. F. W. Line, Dr. Joseph Marple, Dr. C. H. Finney, Dr. R. M. Farnham, Dr. A. W. Teel, Dr. P. S. Traxler, Dr. J. A. Belyea, Dr. S. H. Welch, Dr. John Sims, Dr. J. L. Flint.

Attempts to Stampede Convention for M'Adoo plause, so he waved his hand for silence, and added: "Don't applaud, I may change my mind."

Promptly at 11 o'clock this morning, Chairman Walsh of the Democratic National convention began rapping for order that the delegates might lose no time in resuming their task of trying to decide on a presidential candidate today, after thirty ballots had been cast without reaching a decision.

The invocation was pronounced by Rabbi Louis L. Newman of New York.

Thirty-first ballot—McAdoo, 415½; Smith, 322½; J. W. Davis, 127½; Underwood, 39½; Ralston, 32; Cox, 57; Glass, 24; Robinson, 24; Ritchie 16½; Governor Davis, 6; Thomas J. Walsh, 2½; Saulsbury, 6; Owen, 25.

The thirty-first ballot this morning showed comparatively little change from the thirtieth of last night. There was the shifting a vote here and there among the three leaders, McAdoo, Smith and J. W. Davis, and the swapping of a few among the ten other candidates, but the totals were little affected.

Thirty-second ballot—McAdoo, 417½; Smith, 322½; J. W. Davis, 128; Underwood, 39½; Ralston, 32; Cox, 57; Glass, 24; Robinson, 24; Ritchie, 16½; Governor Davis, 6; Walsh, 3½; Saulsbury, 6; Owen, 24.

Thirty-third ballot—McAdoo, 404½; Smith, 310½; J. W. Davis, 121; Underwood, 39½; Ralston, 32; Cox, 57; Glass, 24; Robinson, 23; Ritchie, 17½; Governor Davis, 6; Walsh, 2½; Saulsbury, 6; Owen, 25; Ferris, 30; W. A. Gaston, ½.

McAdoo dropped to a new low level on the thirty-third ballot, due to the fact that Michigan's thirty votes which he had shared with McAdoo, Smith and Davis, decided to go back to its own favorite son, Senator Ferris. Members of the delegation said that the errand voting would not continue long and they would then return to another alignment.

Thirty-fourth ballot—McAdoo, 445; Smith, 311; J. W. Davis, 107½; Underwood, 39½; Ralston, 31; Cox, 54; Glass, 24; Robinson, 24; Ritchie, 16½; Governor Davis, 30; Walsh, 1½; Saulsbury, 6; Owen 5; Ferris, 30.

Thirty-fifth ballot—McAdoo 439; Smith 323½; J. W. Davis 107; Underwood 39½; Ralston 33; Cox 50; Glass 29; Robinson 24; Ritchie 16½; Governor Davis 3; Walsh ½; Saulsbury 6; Owen 25; James W. Gerard 1.

Thirty-sixth ballot—McAdoo 429; Smith 323; J. W. Davis 106½; Glas, 24; Underwood 39½; Ralston 33; Cox 55; Robinson 24; Ritchie 16½; Governor J. M. Davis 3; Walsh ½; Saulsbury 6; Owen 25; James W. Gerard 1; E. L. Doheny 1.

Thirty-seventh ballot—McAdoo 444½; Smith 321; J. W. Davis 107; Underwood 39½; Ralston 32; Cox 55; Glass 24; Robinson 24; Ritchie 17½; Governor Davis 3; J. M. Davis 4; T. J. Walsh ½; Saulsbury 6; Owens 2.

Another New Industry Secured for Glendale

Breaking of ground on the site of the proposed plant of the Thermosoid Construction company at San Fernando road and Colorado street, will start within the next few days, according to an announcement made today by officials of the Roy L. Kent company, who will build the structure. The offices of the company are located at 1217 Detwiler building, Los Angeles.

The Thermosoid Construction company will manufacture precast concrete hollow walls, to be used in the erection of homes under the Needham patents. The equipment of the new factory will consist of an administration building, a complete plant for all mill and framework and provisions for six units for the manufacture of the precast concrete walls, with a capacity of 100 slabs a day for each unit. Edward F. Needham, the inventor, will be in charge of the plant here and will make his home in Glendale.

Eighty Boy Scouts on Way to Catalina Camp

Eighty Boy Scouts from the Verdugo Hills council left this morning for the summer camp at Catalina Island. This group will remain ten days for a vacation outing and instruction in Boy Scout work.

The group which has been enjoying this annual summer outing for the past ten days are to return home tonight. Harvey R. Cheesman, director of Boy Scout activities, reports the various groups are having a wonderful time.

Tax on Telephone Calls, Relic of War, Ceases at Midnight

The tax that has been charged on telephone calls on long distance since it was imposed during the war is to be taken off at midnight tonight, July 2, according to an announcement by Fred Deal, manager of the Glendale branch of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company.

The tax calls for 5 cents on all calls over 15 cents, and for 10 cents on all calls or telegraph messages costing over 50 cents, says Mr. Deal, and the change will mean a substantial reduction in the telephone bills of the large users, he says.

The reduction will apply only on services billed after July 2, and charges shown on the bills for calls previous to that date will carry the war tax.

The Case of Jennie Brice

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART. Copyright, 1924.

CHAPTER XXXIII

Mr. Holcombe sat up and closed his note-book with a snap. "I'm not so sure of that," he said impressively. "I wonder if you realize, young man, that, having provided a perfect defense for this man Laddie, you provided him with every possible inducement to make away with his wife? Secure in your coming forward at the last minute and confessing the hoax to save him, was there anything he might not have dared with impunity?"

"But I tell you I took Jennie Brice out of town on Monday morning."

"Did you?" asked Mr. Holcombe sternly.

But at that, the school-teacher, having come home and found old Isaac asleep in her cozy corner, set up such a screaming for the police that our meeting broke up. Nor would Mr. Holcombe explain any further.

Mr. Holcombe was up very early the next morning. I heard him moving around at five o'clock and at six he banged at my door and demanded to know at what time the neighborhood rose; he had been up for an hour and there were no signs of life. He was more cheerful after he had had a cup of coffee, commented on Lida's beauty, and said that Howell was a lucky chap.

"That is what worries me, Mr. Holcombe," I said. "I am helping the affair along and what if it turns out badly?"

He looked at me over his glasses. "It isn't likely to turn out badly."

He looked at me over his glasses. "It isn't likely to turn out badly," he said. "I have never married, Mrs. Pitman, and I have missed a great deal out of life."

"Perhaps you're better off if you had married and lost your wife?" I was thinking of Mr. Pitman.

"Not at all," he said with emphasis. "It's better to have married and lost than never to have married at all. Every man needs a good woman, and it doesn't matter how old he is. The older he is, the more he needs her. I am nearly sixty."

I was rather startled, and I almost dropped the fried potatoes. But the next moment he had got out his note-book and was going over the items again. "Pillow-slip," he said. "knife broken, onyx clock—wouldn't think so much of the clock if he hadn't been so damnably anxious to hide the key, the discrepancy in time as revealed by the trial—yes, it is as clear as a bell. Mrs. Pitman, go?"

Views and Theatres

Compiled by Members of The Evening News Staff

The cast of Rex Beach's stage play, "The Barrier," now showing 8 o'clock nightly at the big tent of Murphy's Comedians in Casa Verdugo, is exceptionally strong for a stock company and offers a fearless comparison with any similar company on the coast.

The tent is located on Stocker street between Brand boulevard and Central avenue. Those who wish a front seat may come as early as 7:15 o'clock, states Manager J. A. Menard.

While the rest of Glendale is threatened with darkness, within the tent there is no lack of illumination and the show will continue uninterrupted until the final curtain falls at 11 o'clock. This, states Mr. Menard of the comedians, is because they have their own lighting facilities.

THE GATEWAY

"Fair Week" with Walter Hiers shows at the Gateway Theatre today.

"True as Steel," by Rupert Hughes, shows at the T. D. & L. Theatre today only. Thursday, Friday and Saturday the picture is Zane Grey's "Wanderer of the Wasteland."

THE GLENDALE "Scaramouche" concludes today at the Glendale Theatre. For the next three days, Priscilla Dean in "The Storm Daughter" is the picture.

Ohio Firm Appointed Agent for Dye Makers

CLEVELAND, July 2.—Warm weather has stimulated buying of seasonal goods at retail and large distributors say the stores here have nothing to complain of so far this year. Textile interests are watching closely to see what will be the effect of the announcement that the Oraselli Chemical company of Cleveland hereafter will be the sole American importer of the dyes made by Bayer & company of Germany. It is believed by some that this arrangement will give opportunity for textile manufacturers to secure foreign dyes in a more satisfactory manner than at present.

Josef Hofmann, the famous pianist, learned a lengthy and difficult concerto from the notes during a short railway journey, and a few hours later played it at a public performance.

'Scaramouche' Stays At United Theatre

"Scaramouche," Rex Ingram's greatest undertaking since "The Four Horsemen," continues at the United Theatre, Eagle Rock. Here, in a magnificent setting, is an epic of the screen, gorgeous in costuming, vital in theme. The cast is perfect. There are thirty principals, each of whom is a star of sufficient magnitude to alone carry the average picture. And in addition there are 10,000 other persons in the cast. Rafael Sabatini, the author of the story, is one of the really outstanding writers of the day and his novels rank at the top of the best sellers. Scaramouche, the chief character, is probably the greatest hero of modern fiction. Don't miss this picture if you love romance, adventure and truly remarkable acting.

Power Consumption In Portland Growing

PORTLAND, July 2.—The rapid industrial development of this city and its tributary territory is clearly shown by the increasing demand for electrical power, for both domestic and industrial purposes. The officials of the Northwestern Electric company declare that up to June 1, power sales for the year totaled 57,676,972 kilowatt hours as compared with 45,014,473 kilowatt hours in the corresponding period of 1923 or a gain of 28.13 per cent. The preceding year's operations of the company showed a gain over 1922 of 27.5 per cent.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND SAMMIE'S BLOWER

One day while Nurse Jane was at the moving pictures, Uncle Wiggily hopped to the Hollow Stump School. It had a beautiful red chimney, and in front, on a pole, a flag was fluttering in the breeze.

"Oh, here's Uncle Wiggily!" cried Billie Bushytail, the squirrel boy, as he saw the rabbit gentleman hopping in. And all the boy and girl animals laughed aloud. But because Uncle Wiggily was such a special visitor, the Lady Mouse Teacher allowed the pupils to laugh, and she said nothing to Billie for speaking without raising his paw.

The animal children sang for Uncle Wiggily. There was one song, about a funny piece of chalk, which on the blackboard tried to walk. It slipped and fell and bumped its nose, and stepped upon the peanut's toes.

"Hat! Hat!" laughed Uncle Wiggily, when the children had finished. "That was a very jolly song. Please play another," he said to the Lady Mouse Teacher.

Now while Miss Mouse was at the piano, Sammie Littletail, the brother of Susie, the girl rabbit, was doing something else. Early that morning, on his way to school, Sammie had found a hollow reed, like a pipe stem, growing beside the brook. Sammie broke off the reed and found that he could blow through it.

"Oh, this is a fine blower!" cried Sammie. "I'll puff some little stones through it and make believe it's a popgun."

Putting a little pebble in one end of the hollow reed, Sammie blew on the other end. Out shot the tiny stone, and it hit Bully No Tail, the frog boy, on his head as Bully was bobbing up out of the frog pond.

"Hi, there! What are you doing?" croaked Bully to Sammie.

"Excuse me, I was trying my new blower," answered Sammie.

"I hope I didn't hurt you, Bully," he said.

"No, it only tickled me," laughed Bully. Then Sammie put his blower and some stones in his pocket and he and Bully hopped on to the Hollow Stump School.

Now it was this blower that Sammie took from his pocket in school just as the Lady Mouse was playing the second song for Uncle Wiggily. And when the song was finished, the Lady Mouse Teacher turned around on the piano stool and she saw Sammie with the blower.

"Why, Sammie Littletail!" squeaked the Lady Mouse. "What have you there?"

"My—my blower," Sammie answered, for he was surprised that the teacher had seen him.

"Sammie, you should take out in school nothing but your books," said the Lady Mouse. "Bring that blower to me at once, if you please, Sammie."

The Lady Mouse Teacher spoke sadly. Sammie felt ashamed. He started to take his blower to the teacher, when, all of a sudden, he stopped short. Quickly taking a stone from his pocket he put it in one end of the blower and then he put the other end of the hollow reed in his mouth.

"Sammie! Sammie!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "You mustn't blow your blower in school! Look out! You have it aimed right at the Lady Mouse!"

"No, I haven't!" cried Sammie. "I have it aimed at the Bob Cat. He's trying to get in the window

HELEN WILLS IS TENNIS FAVORITE

Suzanne Lenglen's Illness Aids Title Chance of California Girl

BULLETIN
WIMBLEDON, England, July 2.—Miss Helen Wills, California girl, and America's woman champion, went into the finals of the Wimbledon tennis tournament today by defeating Miss Phyllis Satterthwaite of England, 6-2, 6-1. She will meet Miss Kathleen McKane, England's first ranking woman player, in the final match tomorrow.

R. Norris Williams, II, and Watson M. Washburn, of the United States, entered the men's doubles semi-finals this afternoon by defeating C. H. Kingsley and J. C. Masterman, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4. Francis T. Hunter and Vincent Richards, Americans, entered the semi-finals by defeating Max Woosman and J. D. P. Wheatley, 6-2, 7-5, 8-6, 6-4.

WIMBLEDON, July 2.—Miss Helen Wills of California, youthful American woman tennis champion, today became favorite for the women's championship in the British tournament as a result of the sudden and unexpected retirement of Miss Suzanne Lenglen, French woman champion, because of illness.

But the American girl still has a rocky road to travel before acquiring the title. She was pitted this afternoon against Mrs. Phyllis Satterthwaite in the semi-finals and it was conceded that the American would have to be good to beat this rugged English player.

Victory over Mrs. Satterthwaite would put Miss Wills in the finals against another strong English player, Miss Kathleen McKane. Miss McKane has been playing a powerful, aggressive game and would be certain to give Miss Wills a stiff fight. The strenuous tussle between Miss Lenglen and Miss Ryan is believed to have been too much for the former in her weakened condition.

British experts declare it is not improbable that Miss McKane and not Miss Wills will come into the title that Miss Lenglen has held for five years.

Miss Lenglen's sudden retirement from the tournament left the tennis world gasping. Opinion is prevalent she will not be able to play in the Olympic games. Her doctor has ordered her to take a complete rest for several weeks. She may not recover fully from her recent attack of jaundice for months.

CARPENTIER GETS CHANCE IN FIGHT

Victory Over Tunney Will Pave Way for Title Bout, Says Critic

By FAIR PLAY
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, July 2.—Georges Carpentier today begins energetic preparations for his coming battle against Gene Tunney. It is an important test for him and if he wins his future will be bright.

For with Battling Siki nothing but a wreck of the man who beat Carpentier in France, Carpentier can hurdle into a world's championship by beating McGigue. Descamps says that the finest thing that ever happened to Georges was the fight with Gibbons. This remark he made the night of the Tunney-Spalla battle where he and the Orchard champion were on exhibition. Descamps said that his man needed the experience of battle against a better so good as Gibbons and that the showing Carpentier made ought to make him a favorite over Tunney.

Francis did not mention the fact that under the rules obtaining in the Gibbons-Carpentier bout Tunney was enjoined from doing almost everything in the way of assisting except managing his opponent deftly and harmlessly.

Anyway Descamps says that Carpentier's right alone will be sufficient to settle Tunney and there are not a few who believe that this is so, provided Carpentier can land it a sufficient number of times. It is not a one-shot wallop any more.

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—The Tigers with Ken Penner, their pitching ace, on the mound, took the first game of the series from Sacramento yesterday 6 to 4. Bill Hughes opposed Penner and was in good form, but for the fifth inning when he grew a bit wild, walked one, hit another and then was rapped for four hits, Vernon scoring four runs and enough to win, as Penner was invincible after the first four frames.

Both pitchers received excellent support. Outfielders Kopp for the Solons and Blakesley for the Tigers, both making several brilliant running catches which looked like extra base hits.

The Angels won the opening game from Seattle at Seattle yesterday, 9 to 5. The game did not start until 5:30 p. m., on account of the late arrival of the Seraphs. Golvin, first sacker for the Angels, got a home run and a double. Payne pitched for the Angels, while Jones and Williams worked for the Indians.

Salt Lake dropped the first game of the series to Oakland at Oakland yesterday, 4 to 1, the Bees scoring their only run in the ninth inning. Mails was on the mound for the Oaks, and accounted for two runs with a triple to left field. Kallio worked for eight innings, and was followed by Couble.

Club Will Not Play Series At Utah Capital Unless Fund Assured

OAKLAND, July 2.—With admittedly small hopes of receiving the weekly subsidy of $2500 from the Chamber of Commerce or baseball fans of Salt Lake City, which he claims is necessary before he will consent to again play a series in the Mormon city, William Lane, president of the club, was today negotiating with various cities on the Pacific coast who would welcome Pacific Coast league baseball for the remainder of the season.

Vancouver, British Columbia, is said to be negotiating at the present time for the Pacific Coast league franchise and it was said today that a "tryout" series, to test the drawing power of the Sound city may be held there July 15, between Seattle and Salt Lake.

Cities Want Franchise
Lane claims that he has been losing money steadily in his Utah stamping grounds for some time past, and announces that unless a guarantee is given the visiting clubs, leaving him the proceeds of the "gate," he will take his club elsewhere.

San Diego, Long Beach and possibly Stockton are mentioned as entertaining hopes of having Lane's outfit finish the present season in their respective city.

Other plans included transferring the Salt Lake-San Francisco series from the Utah city as scheduled to San Francisco.

Harris & Hull Team Defeated by Gateways
The Gateways buried the Harris & Hull bowling team last night when the lumbermen dropped three games at the Recreation alleys. Hunt of the winners was high man with 219. Pabst was the only Harris & Hull man to get over 200, rolling 207 in the last game.

Rockson and Colima Draw In Vernon Bout
Mickey Rockson and Bert Colima battled to a draw at Jack Doyle's Vernon arena last night before a packed house. The scrap was the feature card of the evening, and brought the spectators to their feet numerous times. Rockson tried hard for a knockout, but the only Harris & Hull man to get over 200, rolling 207 in the last game.

Progressive Party to Convene Next Friday
CLEVELAND, July 2.—A savage denunciation of both the Republican and Democratic parties, coupled with a rallying call for Progressives the nation over united solidly behind the independent presidential candidacy of Senator Robert M. La Follette, Republican of Wisconsin, will be the keynote of the conference for Progressive political action, opening here Friday. This was definitely determined today by the national committee of the conference.

Plan to Raise Rates Starts Recall Move
SACRAMENTO, July 2.—Recall of Mayor Albert E. Etkus, City Manager H. Bottorf and a majority of the City Council is being advocated, following issuance of a proposal by City Manager Bottorf to increase water rates to small householders forty per cent.

Opponents of the officials declare they were elected on a promise not to increase water rates and say that the city charter prohibits such increase.

City Manager Bottorf justifies the proposed increase on the ground that the municipality is losing $75,000 per annum in water distribution.

VERSAILLES, July 2.—Walter Harris, who last week won the British open golf title, and Gene Sarazen, American professional, eliminated themselves today in the French open championship when they turned in bad third-round morning scores.

Hagen went around in 77 for a total of 224, seven strokes behind Cyril Tolley, British amateur. Sarazen had an 88, for a total of 232.

Hornsbey cracked out his ninth homer during the Cardinals' victory over the Pirates.

ALL COMMUNITIES WILL CELEBRATE

Many Elaborate Programs Planned for Friday at Leading Centers

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, July 2.—Practically every community in Southern California is arranging appropriate observation of the Fourth of July, but many have gone farther and lined up thousands of residents to the beaches, the mountains and other centers of entertainment. A brief review of the various offerings is timely so people can have a choice of diversions.

Rodeo Is Planned
San Bernardino will feature a rodeo with the best western ropers performing. Riverside will have a program at Fairmount lake including a patriotic pageant, Indian canoe races, music and fireworks.

Big Bear and Arrowhead lakes in the San Bernardino mountains, Lake Elsinore and other resorts have special programs.

The beaches all promise fireworks while Long Beach will have a balloon ascension as an added attraction.

Other Events Outlined
Covina Lions club will hold a carnival, auto races will be seen at Culver City, Topanga canyon will feature a bull fight and fiesta at Cooper's ranch, five miles north of Santa Monica; Scott's residents will gather at Plummer park in the 7200 block on Santa Monica boulevard, Hollywood, Catalina Island is planning to entertain a mighty host, Huntington Beach announces an old-fashioned Fourth, all according to the Pacific Electric bureau of news.

For those who wish to travel a greater distance Santa Barbara has a big show lined up for the Fourth of July including automobile stunts. Arrangements to handle the record traffic are being made today by the railroad experts and county motorcycle squad.

Seeking Division of Wealth and Freedom

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—The story of "Main Street" was written into the complaint for divorce filed today by Katie A. Rasmussen against Soren C. Rasmussen, wealthy Long Beach resident. She recounted how he had started life as a jailer in a small North Dakota city at $22.50 a month, later becoming deputy sheriff, while she had cleaned the jail and made the beds and milked thirteen cows every morning. Later she ran a boarding house and when they moved to Montana later they conducted a hotel and general store.

Since 1890 they have accumulated $72,600 in his name and $8,047 in hers, and she alleges that he has tired of her, moved out, as it were, and in addition to a divorce she asks for an equitable division of the property which she asserts was gained through her thrift and untiring work.

Autopsy Findings Are Given In Doris' Case

LONG BEACH, Cal., July 2.—"The two bullets which killed Henry D. Meyer were not fired at close range and the shot that killed Mrs. Doris was."

This coldly scientific statement made by Dr. Frank Webb, county autopsy surgeon, today faced Charles William Doris, wealthy Long Beach realtor and stepfather of Charles and Wesley Ruggles, stage and screen stars, who is charged with the murder of his wife and Meyer, his friend and millionaire business associate.

Webb's contention contradicts the version of the killings as made by Doris, who claims Meyer shot Mrs. Doris and then was killed in a struggle with him for possession of two guns he asserts the millionaire held in his hands. Doris, freed on $50,000 bail, will have his preliminary hearing July 10.

Indians Get Big Sums For Oil Land Leases
PAWBUKA, Okla., July 2.—The Phillips Petroleum company is reported to have paid the highest bonus price for Osage Indian leases Monday when it leased the southeast quarter section of 11-27-5, Burbank field, for $505,000. More than two and a quarter million dollars have been paid the Osage tribe this week for 76 sections of Burbank field acreage.

If you convince them that Los Angeles needs to throw off the yoke of its dictators; if you preach more highways—it will put dollars into your pockets instead of the men of wealth who essay to control your destiny and mine.

And be sure to attend to your home duty by urging the immediate installation of an emergency steam generated power plant here.

That's All
San Pedro and Wobblers Play for Publicity, What? Going to Jail 'For Page 1' Boulder Dam Is Essential

By Gil A. Cowan
Police Chief August Vollmer quits Los Angeles August 1, according to news emanating from the City Hall. He returns to his professional duties at Berkeley, it is understood.

There is no doubt in the writer's mind but what the Los Angeles wobbly situation had much to do with his resignation, as witness the following excerpts from "The administration of justice in handling the wobbly situation in San Pedro seems to have degenerated, during the past year, performance in which about the yellow wobbly delegates seem to be running a race with public officers sworn to uphold the law, to see which side can get the most space in the newspapers."

"All theatricals must have their press agents and solicitude for newspaper favor seems to be the impelling force of this pink and yellow histrionic effort to administer justice in print without any real use of jails or courts. We hear and read nothing about the wobbly situation on either side. As yet, no red-blooded, two-fisted regular he-man has made his appearance in the play. Yellow agitation and pink and white administration is about all there is to it."

"The wobblers make a spectacular announcement that they are going to hold a meeting in which nobody has any particular interest and then some officer of the law, in a deep, melodramatic curfew-shall-not-ring-tonight tone of voice, gets a lot of space in the papers with a sweeping declaration that there will be no meeting."

"Nothing seems worth while on either side that's not command the attention of the newspapers. Nothing pleases a wobbly like seeing his name in print. He will go to jail any time if by getting his name on the police blotter the newspapers will mention him. And the police seem to crave this press agent stuff, too. They never seem able to find a wobbly who is making a talk before a crowd where they can make a spectacular arrest with much display of shoulder straps and brass buttons. And how the newspaper reporters do eat this press agent stuff about the wild manhunting expeditions for prominent citizens who took part in the raid led by some dirty yellow wobbly who demands the protection of the law. It has been denouncing for months."

"The stage director in this whole affair seems to be the academic chief of the Los Angeles police department. The voluble Vollmer seems to have awakened to the fact that there must be a little change in the play in the second act and the public might lose interest. And so now we are witnessing a vigorous demand that citizens, who have been chafing under the collar because of the inactivity of the police, uphold the constitution. Upholding the constitution is popular just now, even among the wobblers, who have been trying to tear it up, and Vollmer's advice seems to be good for a lot of spaces."

"Just what the next act will bring forth will depend some on the whims of the chief, who talks much and does little, so far as the administration of justice in San Pedro is concerned. It is certain a lot of red-blooded citizens, who are just as earnest in having the law enforced as they are in having it moved, are getting pretty warm under the collar."

Aside from that indictment, there is every evidence that people of Los Angeles are tiring of dictatorship on the part of a self-elected few. Never was an oligarchy quite so strong, and yet with all its strength it cannot handle the crime or the traffic or the utilities situation in this metropolitan area.

Glendale feels the effect of crime in Los Angeles because it keeps peaceable people away from this section. Glendale suffers when traffic conditions are "all gummed up," as the stenographer says. And Glendale is hit under the belt when "the powers that be" fight their own city's light and power; i. e., fight the Boulder canyon dam and fight everything that doesn't pay them tribute.

auxiliary power plant, maintained that this is no time "for any hysterical move." Southern California, he said, will have all the power it needs by November, and it would take until then at least to install the plan. Mr. Gihuly opposes the plan to bond the city at this time for a million dollar plant, and he also is opposed to a municipal owned power plant. There are other matters, he declared, that are equally as important as the installation of a power plant.

President Hanson for the matter should be put up to the City Council, and that the power committee that is now operating should not interfere with the course that is to be followed by the bond advisory committee in its investigations of the projects that are to be submitted to the citizens of Glendale.

Name Committee
L. H. Myers, W. S. Kirk and William Hope were appointed a committee to plan for the organization of a Realty board unit to the Glendale branch of the Angeles Forest Protective association, to report at the next meeting.

A vote of thanks to the Glendale Advancement association, for its work in bringing about the certainty of a hotel for Glendale was unanimously adopted.

as chairman of a new committee to investigate and report on the electric signs at San Fernando road and West Broadway, with a view to having them changed to direct traffic toward the center of Glendale.

Report on Listings
A resolution of sympathy on the death of Craig E. Stumpf, a member of the board, was authorized.

The listing service that has been in operation since February has brought to the board 266 listings, valued at $4,924,000, of which twenty-nine have been sold, with a value of $211,000, according to a report by W. A. Horn. The June sales under the listing system totaled three, with a value of $38,000, out of sixteen listings valued at $106,000 filed with the board. Some steps, it was agreed, must be taken to bring the system to a footing of efficiency, and this matter will be taken up at the meeting on July 16.

Reports were submitted by J. M. Boland on the juks day, by W. E. Sawyer on membership, by James W. Pearson on the finances, and these were adopted.

OUTLINES PLANS TO COMBAT FIRE

Civic Organizations Will Be Asked to Form Units Of Ten Men Each

Further developments in the plans to organize a Glendale unit of the Angelus Forest Protective association, to guard against forest and brush fires in this territory, were outlined at last night's board meeting of the Chamber of Commerce by Director P. J. Hays, a member of the fire and flood control committee.

It is planned to have all the service clubs and other civic organizations form units from among their members, each unit to consist of one leader and ten men, and also from among the various city departments and from such commercial firms as have sufficient men in their employ to permit the formation of such units.

One unit of fire fighters has already been formed in the city's trench gang in the water department, under the leadership of G. Oliver Wilber.

A field day in which all the members of the Angelus Forest Protective association will participate will be held here in September, when a fire call will be sent out to every unit in the association with orders to report here for action. Three hundred men will respond to the call, it is declared, and a series of maneuvers will be held in the hills surrounding Glendale when conditions as closely as possible approximating those attendant on a forest fire will be arranged to permit the crews to demonstrate their training.

A meeting of the fire control committee will be called by W. J. Curran, Glendale director, for a conference with the Chamber of Commerce board next Tuesday night, when the organization plans will be further advanced.

Missing Optometrist Injured In Accident

Dr. Edwin H. Armstrong of 827 South Maryland avenue is a patient at the Glendale sanitarium, recuperating from an automobile accident that occurred Sunday, June 29, on the Willow Springs road in the Antelope valley, when his car turned over.

While no bones were broken in the accident, Dr. Armstrong suffered numerous bruises and sustained a general shock. He had been to Lancaster on the return trip when a blowout occurred. In attempting to negotiate the sand road on a flat tire, his car skidded at a turn and went over.

Finding himself pinned underneath, Dr. Armstrong was able to get out, and then had several miles before he could find relief. He took the train back to Glendale yesterday and went at once to the sanitarium.

Orangemen to Attend Annual Church Meet

C. F. Morgan of 1316 East Harvard street, announces that the Orangemen and Orangewomen of Los Angeles vicinity are to hold their annual church services at 7:45 o'clock Sunday night, July 6, in the Westlake Presbyterian church, Ninth street and Grand View avenue, Los Angeles. Rev. G. A. Briggles will preach the sermon. The members of this organization have held their annual church service the first Sunday in July since 1891.

Sunset Club Member Celebrates Birthday

James F. Ireland, of 908 East Main street, loyal member of The Glendale Evening News Sunset club, celebrated his eighty-second birthday yesterday. He was born July 1, 1842, in West Virginia. Both he and Mrs. Ireland are faithful members of the Sunset club and are looking forward to entertaining the club on October 18, their fifty-eighth wedding anniversary.

MacBain Reports Good Fishing on Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Harry MacBain, 614 East Lomita avenue, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Tracy, of Hollywood, have returned to Glendale after spending two weeks on a fishing trip to Feather river, Lake Almor, Truckee river and Lake Independence, at all of which points they encountered plenty of excellent sport.

Joseph Fortunato to Visit Eastern Friends

Joseph Fortunato of 534 North Isabel street, left Saturday on the Elks' special for Boston, Mass., to attend the Elks' convention. After spending a week in Boston, he will visit New York city and Buffalo, N. Y., his former home. Here he will spend two weeks with his father and sister, Nicholas Fortunato and Mrs. L. Delbello.

Mr. Fortunato has not visited his former home since he and Mrs. Fortunato left Buffalo, fourteen years ago and located in Glendale. En route home he will come via the Canadian Rockies and will visit several points of interest. He plans on being gone about two months. Mr. Fortunato is proprietor of the Glendale Tile & Mantel works.

Girl Finds New Home With Adopted Father

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—Catherine Greenhow, 11, is today the legal daughter of Perry J. Hays, a broker, as a result of the financier's pledge to the girl's father, his lifelong friend, that he would care for the child if anything happened to him.

Greenhow was reported to have ended his life recently in Wash-

Bonus Scalpers Will 'Scalp' In Vain

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Drastic action will confront "scalpers" who attempt to buy up for cash at large discounts adjusted compensation certificates from World War veterans, according to announcement made here by officials of the Veterans' Bureau to representatives of the American Legion. Attention of the bureau was called to an advertisement in which a veteran offered to sell his certificate "to the highest bidder."

Officials are in receipt of advice that a syndicate is being organized in a big middle western city in the expectation of reaping large profits at the expense of the veteran.

The scalper, it is pointed out, will in all probability find himself, if he buys such certificates, in possession of a non-negotiable "scrap of paper."

Section 606 of the law, it is pointed out, provides that "the director shall not make any payments under this title to any person other than the dependent or such representatives of the dependent as the director shall by regulation prescribe."

ington, D. C., and formal adoption papers have been issued to Hays.
